Spice up your kitchen life

Thanksgiving is just around the corner, and the winter holidays aren't far behind. Chances are you'll be in the kitchen more than usual, what with the holiday baking, cooking and entertaining. We think you deserve something special to get through it all: A cute, sexy little apron from Domistyle. This one reads "Caution: Hot Dish." It's polyester and cotton, machine washable and has an adjustable neck strap. We picked this apron up at SAS Cupcakes on Newark's Main Street for $41.95, but you also can find it – along with other styles – at www.domistylegifts.com.

Like what you see? Each month, we'll be giving away a variety of items as part of the Saturday Night Quickie, a message board contest that takes place occasional Saturday evenings at Delaware.MomsLikeMe.com. Watch the site for details and notice of upcoming contests.

Now, here's a good idea

Hershey's is great, but don't we all need a little Emergency Chocolate now and again? Bloomsberry & Co. makes this milk chocolate bar for relief of "chocolate cravings, lovesickness, exam pressure, mild anxiety and extreme hunger." We think it works especially well when your toddler has a meltdown at the supermarket, your daughter can't find her tights for dance class and your husband has to work late – again. Retail for $5 at www.bloomsberry.com, where you can also find items like the Marital Bliss Bar.

Light a fire, watch a rainbow

There's nothing like the crackle and warmth of a fire on a chilly night. Well, now you can add a little color to your fire with Funky Colored Flames. It's a mix of sulphates and chlorides, and creates a blue, green and purple display. It can be used year-round – for holiday celebrations in the winter months or camping and backyard fires during the summer months. Funky and backyard fires during the summer months. Funky Colored Flames retails for $4.99 a box, which includes three packets, and is available at Target, Wal-Mart and Camping World stores.

Spicy and a little sweet

Looking for something different to bring to the table this Thanksgiving? Try this Hot Pepper Raspberry Chipotle Sauce from Robert Rothschild Farm. The all-natural sauce makes for a great appetizer when served over a bed of cream cheese or warm Brie. But you can also enjoy it on the grill, as a dip for chicken tenders or as a condiment for sandwiches. We purchased this 12-ounce bottle from a gourmet kitchen store in Annapolis, but you can buy it at RobertRothschild.com. Retail for about $9.

A touch of sweetness

Now that you've got that fire going, why not curl up on the couch with a cup of your favorite tea sweetened with a little Hockessin Honey? This 100 percent pure raw honey is made from "Hannah & Hayden's Hives," and is $7.89 for 12 ounces at Francine's, a Hockessin marketplace that carries an array of honeys.
