KC Celebs Share Their Favorite Holiday Books

Give the Gift of Great Outings in 2009

Family Membership: $60-80. Time spent together with the kids or grandkids at the zoo, Wonderscope, Union Station or the Toy & Miniature Museum: Priceless! Additionally, when you purchase a membership to a KC attraction you may save money when you visit another city as well!

Friends of the Zoo membership entitles you to free or discounted admission to more than 100 zoos nationwide and several local museums offer reciprocal memberships with museums in other cities! Another great option is a gift certificate to a local venue or show such as the Puppetry Arts Institute, Paul Mesner Puppet shows or to Starlight.

Funky Colored Flames for Your Holiday Fire

Turn a campfire, bonfire, patio fireplace or your holiday living room fire into a fun and colorful fire with Funky Colored Flames. Simply place a packet into an established fire then sit back to enjoy the magical display of blue, green and purple flames. The more packets you put in the fire, the more magic there will be! Available in the camping aisle at Walmart & Target. $4.99

Holiday Fun

Holiday Baking Made Easier with Betty Crocker

Celebrate the holiday season with a creative and delicious activity that the whole family will enjoy - cookie decorating! Betty Crocker Royal Icing now comes in convenient, ready-to-use pouches for easy, no-mess use. Long used by professional bakers, royal icing hardens to a smooth, matte-like surface - making it perfect for stacking, storing and transporting baked goodies. Available at retail supermarkets and grocery stores. $2.99
